HAPPY FATHER'S DAY TO ALL OUR DADS

You men are the pillars of our families, the guardians of the home, and the leaders of the domestic church. Each of this Sunday's Masses are offered for those men whose names have been submitted to us, whether living or departed. May the good Lord keep you ever true to your fatherly vocation, and may St. Joseph be your ever-faithful friend, protector and helper.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

As you transition to the next phase of your life, may the Lord always be your Shepherd, and Protector. Please know that we pray for you, that you live always in the state of sanctifying grace and remain faithful to the teachings of Christ.

EUCCHARISTIC DAY WITH BISHOP LUCIA

To honor the Sacred Heart of Our Lord during this month of June, our Bishop is holding special Eucharistic Liturgies in each of the regions of the Diocese. In our region, he will be at Historic Old St. John's in Utica, on Tue. 25 June. At 12:10, there will be Holy Mass, followed by Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament until 6 PM. A Holy Hour will be held from 5-6 PM, and Confessions will be heard from 3 PM until 6 PM. The Bishop is doing this to participate in the National Eucharistic Revival, which will culminate in July in Indianapolis.

SAFE ENVIRONMENT TRAINING SESSIONS

Any person in the Diocese who is involved with youth as a volunteer or an employee is required to take the Safe Environment Training Session, which is a 2 hour long program. A criminal background check is also included in the program. ## SUPREME COURT JUSTICE'S WIFE WANTS TO FLY THE SACRED HEART FLAG

Martha Ann Alito was caught on a hidden microphone while being interviewed by a far-left journalist, posing as a conservative. Mrs. Alito said that she was so tired of having to look at the gay pride flag flying, that she would like to raise the flag of the Sacred Heart of Jesus instead. She is the wife of Justice Sam Alito, who wrote the Supreme Court decision which revoked Roe v. Wade.

SUPREME COURT REJECTS ABORTION PILL CHALLENGE

On Thursday, the Supreme Court of the US (SCOTUS), rejected a challenge to the abortion pill mifepristone, meaning that the abortion pill will be widely available to continue killing babies and injuring (mothers) nationwide.

The 9-0 decision says that the pro-life doctors who brought the case do not have standing-they were not injured, and so the court does not intervene. That's even though they sued on behalf of women who were injured by the abortion drug by the thousands-including women who have been killed.

The attorneys for the pro-life doctors were disappointed by the decision: “We are disappointed that the Supreme Court did not reach the merits of the FDA's lawless removal of common sense safety standards for abortion drugs. Nothing in today's decision changes the fact that the FDA's own label says that roughly one in 25 women who take chemical abortion drugs will end up in the emergency room-a dangerous reality the doctors and medical associations we represent in this case know all too well. The FDA recklessly leaves women and girls to take these high-risk drugs all alone in their homes or dorm rooms, without requiring the ongoing, in-person care of a doctor. While we're disappointed with the court's decision, we will continue to advocate for women and work to restore common sense safeguards for abortion drugs-like an initial office visit to screen for ectopic pregnancies. And we are grateful that these three states stand ready to hold the FDA accountable for jeopardizing the health and safety of women and girls across the country.

The court recognized that our doctors would have standing to protect their conscience rights. The government's initial position was that federal law would not protect our doctors from being forced to participate in abortions. Yet at the Supreme Court, the government changed its position and said that federal conscience laws definitively protect doctors in these circumstances. This about-face explains why the Supreme Court parted ways with every other court to consider this case. And it resulted in the court recognizing that federal law fully protects doctors against being required to provide abortions or other medical treatment against their consciences.”

Ingrid Skop MD, FACOG, a board-certified OB-GYN who serves as vice-president of medical affairs at Charlotte Lozier Institute, reacted thus to the decision:“Pharmacists, who do not receive clinical training, should not be distributing these dangerous drugs. By pushing these medically unsupervised abortions, the FDA and abortion advocates continue down the slippery slope of chipping away at medical standards for women seeking abortion. This is not health care. This is an ideology that prioritizes destruction of unborn human life and does not care that the women injured by these abortions, whom I see in the ER on a regular basis, are collateral damage.”

Today, about 64% of the abortions taking place in the US are chemical abortions. For more information, read the full article on LifeSiteNews, 13 June, 2024.
