EPIPHANY HOLY WATER

In the antediluvian (pre-Vatican II) liturgical books, there is a blessing for holy water on the Feast of the Epiphany. This blessing asks God to sanctify this water with power to rout the evil spirits, to bestow health of mind and body, and to give strength against the temptations of the devil. This water will be blessed on the (true) Feast of the Epiphany, 6 January, and will be available from the Holy Water vat near the confessional after that.

Archbishop Vigano Speaks Out

As mentioned in the sermon on the Octave Day of Christmas, the former papal ambassador to the US, Archbishop Carlo Maria Vigano, has had some explosive things to say regarding the current affairs in the Church. These are excerpted from a statement he issued on 19 December 2019:

“For more than six years now we have been poisoned by a false magisterium, a sort of extreme synthesis of all the conciliar misconceptions and post-conciliar errors that have been relentlessly propagated, without most of us noticing. Yes, because the II Vatican Council opened not only Pandora's Box but also Overton's Window, and so gradually we did not realize the upheavals that had been carried out, the real nature of the reforms and their dramatic consequences, nor did we suspect who was really at the helm of that gigantic subversive operation, which the modernist Cardinal Suenens called “the 1789 of the Catholic Church”. Thus, over these last decades, the Mystical Body has been slowly drained of its lifeblood through unstoppable bleeding: The Sacred Deposit of Faith has gradually been squandered, dogmas denatured, worship secularized and gradually profaned, morality sabotaged, and the priesthood vilified, the Eucharistic sacrifice protestantized and transformed into a convivial banquet.

Now the Church is lifeless, covered with metastases and devastated, the people of God are groping, illiterate and robbed of their Faith, in the darkness of chaos and division. In these last decades, the enemies of God have progressively made scorched earth of two thousand years of Tradition with unprecedented acceleration, thanks to the subversive drive of this pontificate, supported by the powerful Jesuit apparatus, a deadly coup de grace (death blow) is being delivered to the Church.

The result of this abuse is what we now have before our eyes: a Catholic Church that is no longer Catholic: a container emptied of its authentic content and filled with borrowed goods.

The advent of the antichrist is inevitable: it is part of the epilogue of the History of Salvation. But we know that it is the prerequisite for the universal triumph of Christ and His glorious Bride. Those of us who have not let ourselves be deceived by these enemies of the Church embedded in the ecclesial Body, must unite and together face off against the Evil One, who is long defeated yet still able to harm and cause the eternal perdition of multitudes of souls, but whose head the Blessed Virgin, our Leader, will definitively crush.”
