THIS SUNDAY WE TAKE OUR LORD IN PROCESSION DOWN MAIN ST. IN VERONA

Processions with the Blessed Sacrament are a venerable tradition of our Catholic faith, whereby we publicly profess our faith in the Real Presence of Our Lord in the Holy Eucharist. We accompany Jesus in the Sacrament of His love through our village to manifest to our neighbors that the God-Man is among us, under the humble sign of bread. Often, we do not feel we can speak about our faith to our neighbor, but by processing with the Blessed Sacrament, we can give expression to our belief in so great a Mystery. Our procession is a plea for all world to recognize that Jesus Christ is the King of all, and that by adoring Him, following His teaching and example, true justice and peace will be realized in our troubled world.

Please join us...no matter what Mass you attend. Come to the Church at about 11:45 to join in the Procession.

FATHER'S DAY: SUNDAY 18 JUNE

Please have your fathers, grandfathers, husbands included in the Masses to be offered next Sunday by putting their names on the envelopes provided on the table in the vestibule, where there are also cards for you to give them.

Also, next weekend, you are asked to return the baby bottles with change in them for the mobile sonograms for pregnant women.

FRIDAY 16 JUNE: SOLEMNITY OF THE MOST SACRED HEART OF JESUS Holy Mass at 8 AM

Each one of us needs to throw ourselves down before the Sacred Heart of Our Lord and implore Him for His merciful love: our world is being destroyed by sin.

SATURDAY 17 JUNE: FEAST OF THE IMMACULATE HEART OF MARY Holy Mass at 8 AM

Devotion to the Heart of our Blessed Mother teaches us how to love Her Divine Son, and aids us in giving our total self to Him, as did she. At Fatima, Our Lady said, "My Immaculate Heart will be your refuge, and the way that leads you to God."

Baseball, Transvestite “Nuns” and an Archbishop

The intrepid Archbishop of San Francisco, Salvatore Cordileone, has written an exceptional editorial published in the Wall Street Journal. 1 June 2023. In that piece, which is too lengthy to print in its entirety in this space, the worthy Archbishop speaks about the waffling decision of the LA Dodgers baseball franchise to bestow, then to revoke, only to rebestow “community hero” status on a group known as the “Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence”. The Archbishop, (whose Italian family name translates “heart of a lion” very aptly), describes these characters as “a group that perversely dresses up as nuns while encouraging lewd and sacriligious behavior”. He then calls this behavior what it is: “the latest example of mainstreaming derision of the Catholic Faith”. Writing a commentary on the Archbishop's editorial, the phenomenal Fr. John Perricone says, “These are the kinds of words that make Catholic hearts race. His temperate, albeit firm, tone sunders the decades long inertia that seems to have entrapped much of Catholic officialdom.”

“San Francisco's Archbishop precedes those words by reciting a long list of anti-Catholic bigotry in America's past: the 1834 burning of an Ursuline convent of nuns outside of Boston; the Know Nothings who tried to suppress the rights of German and Irish Catholic immigrants: the Klu Klux Klan which began to terrorize black Americans, Catholics and Jews. In 1921, a Klansman fatally shot Fr James Coyle who had celebrated the wedding of the gunman's Catholic-convert daughter to a Puerto Rican man. A Klan-filled jury acquitted the gunman at a trial presided over by a Klansman judge.” The Archbishop notes that since May 2020, there have been at least 260 attacks on Church property in the U.S. The major news media largely ignores these incidents, and if it does report on them, they are soon largely forgotten. Cordeleone summarizes, “history teaches that when we don't treat religiously or racially motivated crime seriously, we will see more and more worse aggression. Already we are witnessing what such laxity has wrought across America. Transgender activists on social media have threatened heinous violence against Christian “transphobes” who don't subscribe to their ideology.”

“Bravo, Archbishop Cordileone”, says Fr. Perricone. He continues, “One wonders why similar outrage was not expressed by ordinary Catholics across the country. If such acts were committed against Muslims or Jews there would have been howls of indignation. And rightly so. Why have Catholics been mute to such attacks on their Holy Religion? Could it be that a half-century of diluting Catholic identity has taken its toll? Could we be harvesting the fruits of decades of pulpits and Catholic schools teaching that nothing defines Catholics except a treacly 'God loves you' catechesis?...Cordileone has set the match to the rotting timbers of a post-Vatican II 'kneeling before the world'.”
