DAY OF PRAYER AND FASTING FOR THE WAR IN THE HOLY LAND: TUE. 17 OCT. FEAST OF ST. IGNATIUS OF ANTIOCH

The Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, His Eminence Pierbattista Cardinal Pizzaballa has asked Catholics around the world to offer this Tuesday as a day of Penance and Prayer for peace in Israel: "In this time of sorrow and dismay, we do not want to remain helpless. We cannot let death and its sting (I Cor. 15:55) be the only word that we hear. That is why we feel the need to pray, to turn our hearts to God the Father. Only in this way we can draw the strength and serenity needed to endure these hard times, by turning to Him in prayer, and intercession, to implore and cry out to God amidst this anguish."

Cardinal Pizzaballa serves as the Bishop of Latin rite Catholics living in Israel, the Palestinian territories, Jordan and Cyprus. His position is especially delicate at this time, since the many of the Catholics of his jurisdiction are Palestinian. In his statement of 12 October, the Patriarch stated, "As long as the Palestinian issue, the freedom, dignity and future of the Palestinians are not taken into account in the ways that are necessary today, prospects for peace between Israel and Palestine will be increasingly difficult."

This day of Prayer and Penance will be held on the Feast of St. Ignatius of Antioch (Syria), who was consecrated and appointed Bishop of Antioch by St. Peter himself, as his successor in that venerable See, and governed it for 40 years. He was martyred around the year 107 AD.

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY: SUNDAY 22 OCTOBER

The work of the Church is essentially missionary and all of us share in its mission. One of the ways we do this is to financially support the priests, brothers, religious sisters and lay people who bring Christ's truth and love to those who need to hear it. I know you are always so generous to this work, God bless you for what you do.

POPE LEO XIII ON THE DEVOTION TO OUR LADY

“When we have recourse to Mary in prayer, we are having recourse to the Mother of mercy, who is so well disposed toward us that, whatever the necessity that presses upon us, especially in attaining eternal life, she is instantly at our side of her own accord, even though she has not been invoked.

She dispenses grace with a generous hand from that treasure with which from the beginning she was divinely endowed in fullest abundance that she might be worthy to be the Mother of God.

But the fullness of grace which confers on her the most illustrious of her many titles, the Blessed Virgin is infinitely superior to all the hierarchies of men and angels, the one creature who is closest of all to Christ.

'It is a great thing in any saint to have grace sufficient for the salvation of many souls, but to have enough to suffice for the salvation of everybody in the world, is the greatest of all; and this is found in Christ and in the Blessed Virgin.'

It is impossible to say how pleasing and gratifying to her it is when we greet her with the Angelic Salutation, “full of grace”, and in repeating it, fashion these words of praise into ritual crowns for her. For every time we say them, we recall the memory of her exalted dignity and of the Redemption of the human race which God began through her. We likewise bring to mind the divine and everlasting bond which links her with the joys and sorrows, the humiliations and triumphs of Christ in directing and helping mankind to eternal life.

It pleased Christ to take upon Himself the Son of Man, and to become thereby our Brother, in order that His mercy to us might be shown most openly; for 'it behooved Him in all things to make like unto his brethren that He might become a merciful and faithful high priest before God (Heb. 2:17). Likewise because Mary was chosen to be the Mother of Christ, our Lord and our Brother, the unique prerogative was given her above above all other mothers to show her mercy to us and pour it out upon us.”

(From his Encyclical: Magnae Dei Matris, 7 September 1892. Pope Leo XIII reigned from 1878-1903, and wrote 11 encyclicals on the Holy Rosary.)
